

Gender Pay Gap Report 2017

Shropdoc is required by law to publish an annual gender pay gap report.

This is its report for the snapshot date of 5 April 2017.

Our proportion of men and women across the four pay quartiles are as follows:

B	45%	55%	Includes all employees whose standard hourly rate places them above the lower quartile but at or below the median
C	32%	68%	Includes all employees whose standard hourly rate places them above the median but at or below the upper quartile
D	29%	68%	Includes all employees whose standard hourly rate places them above the upper quartile

The figures set out above have been calculated using the standard methodologies used in the Equality Act 2010 (Gender Pay Gap Information) Regulations 2017.

Pay Gap Reporting for 2017 shows that across our whole workforce, there is no difference in pay for either gender. For staff in the middle of our workforce (median average) our male staff on average earn 10% less than our female staff. The workforce ratio as at 5th April 2017 was 38% males and 62% females. The significant majority of our staff are undertaking frontline roles.

Gender pay differences are not prevalent across the whole workforce but are contained within specific groups. Our pay quartile data does demonstrate that female staff are proportionately more likely to occupy more clinical or managerial roles. Under the law, men and women must receive equal pay for:

- the same or broadly similar work;
- work rated as equivalent under a job evaluation scheme; or
- work of equal value.

Shropdoc is committed to the principle of equal opportunities and equal treatment for all employees, regardless of sex, race, religion or belief, age, marriage or civil partnership, pregnancy/maternity, sexual orientation, gender reassignment or disability. As such, it:

- carries out pay and benefits audits at regular intervals; and
- evaluates job roles and pay grades as necessary to ensure a fair structure.

Shropdoc is therefore confident that its gender pay gap does not stem from paying men and women differently for the same or equivalent work. Rather its gender pay gap is the result of the roles in which men and women work within the organisation and the salaries that these roles attract.

I, Julian Barrett, CEO, confirm that the information in this statement is accurate.
